DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The amendment filed on 6/20/00 has not been entered because it's too long. A substitute specification excluding claims is required pursuant to 37 CFR 1.125(a) to correct for the informalities as noted in the preliminary amendment dated 6/20/00.

A substitute specification filed under 37 CFR 1.125(a) must only contain subject matter from the original specification and any previously entered amendment under 37 CFR 1.121. If the substitute specification contains additional subject matter not of record, the substitute specification must be filed under 37 CFR 1.125(b) and must be accompanied by: 1) a statement that the substitute specification contains no new matter; and 2) a marked-up copy showing the amendments to be made via the substitute specification relative to the specification at the time the substitute specification is filed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 1 recites the limitations of “wherein the cause of the transmission power increase may be a random fade condition or a continuing fade condition, if the cause of the transmission power increase is a random fade condition, then reducing the transmission power at a first predetermined rate for a first predetermined time period in response to the transmission power increase; if the cause of the transmission power increase is a continuing fade condition, maintaining the transmission power, however, there is no support for such limitations as claimed. The disclosure at page 5, lines 14-18 only teaches that the base station examines the pattern of incoming power control message to determined characteristics of the fade and use the estimated fade to control changes that need to be made. One skill in the art would not be able to make and/or use the invention as claimed. Claim 8 recites the limitations of “wherein said frame rate signal is based upon the characterization of the cause of the power increase as a random fade or a continuing fade, however, there is no support for such limitations as claimed. The disclosure at page 5, lines 14-18 only teaches that the base station examines the pattern of an incoming power control message to determined characteristics of the fade and use the estimated fade to control changes that need to be made. One skill in the art would not be able to make and/or use the invention as claimed.

Art Unit: 2631

Claim 12 recites that the “transmitter means for transmitting a transmission power increase signal and a power adjustment” there is no support for such limitations as claimed. The specification only teaches at page 11, lines 25-28 that the transmitter means adjusts a transmission power in response to a power adjustment signal. One skill in the art would not be able to make and/or use the invention as claimed.

As per claim 14, the limitation “0.25 DB” does not have support in the specification.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The limitation “ may be” recited in claim 1, line 8 renders the claim vague and indefinite. The same comment applies to the limitation “may or may not be” recited in line 21.

Claims 2-7 depend on claim 1, they are equally rejected.

As per claim 8, line 9, the limitation “the transmission power increase” lacks of proper antecedent basis.

Claims 9-11 depend on claim 8, they are equally rejected.
